CURLING CLUB DANCE

The members of the Ladies' Curling Club are to be congratulated on the splendid success of their dance which was held in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Thursday evening last. It is a well known fact, not only in this community, but in others, that when the ladies undertake to do a thing, no matter what it be, their efforts are always more successful than the efforts of the men folk and this was again demonstrated Thursday evening when a capacity crowd met at the hall to trip the light fantastic for a few hours to the music of one of the best orchestras to be procured.

It seemed, by the numbers present, that all the good people of Vulcan and surrounding country had bought tickets to help along this worthy organization and these were added to by a large number of people from other towns along the line who were on pleasure bent for the evening.

Dancing started at 9 o'clock and it was not long after that hour before the hall was comfortably filled. By ten o'clock the number of people present had doubled and it is safe to say that with about three hundred persons in the hall it was the largest crowd that has so far been accommodated this season and far eclipsed the Halloween dance of two weeks ago.

Dancing under these conditions was anything but easy and bumping and jostling was unavoidable but everybody took it in good parts and if anything it seemed to add to the enjoyment of the evening. The orchestra, composed of local and Calgary talent, rendered some excellent music and kept the company constantly on the jump until about twelve o'clock when an adjournment was made for supper which was served in the basement and proved to be an outstanding feature of the occasion to which all did justice and fully enjoyed.

Dancing was again resumed about 12:45 and continued well into the early morning hours when an halt was called and an armistice arranged until Friday, November 18th, when the Vulcan citizens Band will put on a Basket Social and Dance to be held on that date at the same old time and at the same old place.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION

Armistice Day, Thursday, November 11th, was celebrated in Vulcan in a fitting manner in the L.O.O.F. Hall, when all the school children and a large number of adults assembled to honor the memory of those who had fallen in battle and commemorate the victorious conclusion of the world struggle. The chair was occupied by the mayor, Mr. W. E. Butchart, who spoke a few words to the audience and then called upon Rev. A. E. Hayes to address the children on "Armistice Day and its Meaning." After a short prayer for the dead the speaker gave a brief resume of the operations which started on August 4th, 1914 and ended victoriously on November 11th, 1918, which was delivered in a masterly manner and listened to with keen interest by all present. The Rev. Father McLaughlin also spoke on the subject and his remarks also were greatly appreciated by his auditors. The children rendered their part of the program by the singing of the "Maple Leaf" in a pleasing manner which did credit to both themselves and their teachers. At intervals during the program the Vulcan Band rendered some musical numbers which were well received and the meeting closed with everybody joining in the singing of the "National Anthem."

LOVE—GORDON

The marriage of Mr. Robert E. Love, a well known farmer of the Vulcan district to Miss Velma B. Gordon, also a popular young lady of this district, took place in Calgary on Thursday, November 4th, at the Methodist Parsonage. The happy couple spent a few days in Calgary before returning to their home here. The Advocate joins their many friends in wishing them long life and happiness.

COMBINATION SALE

A Combination Sale of Household Furniture etc. will be held at rear of Vulcan Livery on Saturday, November 27th. Further entries solicited until 2 o'clock on day of sale.—Rebbe & Shimp, Auctioneers.

COURT NEWS

Jack Germaine, of Champion district, was arrested by the Provincial Police and appeared before Justice of the Peace, J. A. Lindsay at Vulcan on November 1st, charged with false pretences. From the evidence it appears that Germaine obtained a loan of $220.00 from James Burnett, a farmer in the Champion district. Germaine gave a note for the amount and when same became due accused went to Bennett and signified his intention of making payment. However, he obtained possession of the note and told Burnett that as he had both the note and the money he would pay when he got ready and refused to give back the note or make settlement. Accused was committed for trial and was escorted to Lethbridge gaol. On November 10th Germaine appeared in the Supreme Court at Lethbridge, before Mr. Justice Simmons and jury. A verdict of guilty was returned and accused was given a suspended sentence.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

The pictures presented at the Opera House the past week have been of exceptionally high order and the management are to be congratulated on their efforts to please the public by bringing the best productions only to our town.

On Tuesday last the patrons saw the opening episode of the "Red Glove," a serial to be run each week in addition to the regular program, and the picture, judging by the first instalment, will prove to be one of the best serials that has ever been shown here. For those who love excitement this will furnish them with all they want along this line and then some. The "Delicious Little Devil," featuring Mae Murray, was also shown and enjoyed by the large number present.

On Thursday evening a special picture was shown which has been advertised for some time, "12-10," featuring Marie Doro. This picture, which is a British production, is entirely out of the common run and has taken exceptionally well wherever shown. It has the usual love and romance but the mystery attached is altogether different from the ordinary and keeps one keyed up all the time wondering what is to happen next and as event after event is portrayed on the screen one cannot help a spooky feeling taking possession. The management has several of these pictures booked for the near future and as these pictures are more expensive than any others everybody should turn out to see them. Dates will be announced later.

Saturday evening "The Dub," featuring Wallace Reid, was shown and proved to be a real treat, keeping everybody in good humor from start to finish. The Educational film and "A Romance of Lethbridge," was also very good and taken altogether was as good, if not, better than any city show.

CHINA AND THE FORWARD MOVEMENT

Vulcan was visited last week by one of our Canadians, Rev. Mr. Mitchell, who has spent 25 years in China and is now on his way back. He is principal of a school or college for Chinese boys. Hundreds have passed through this school and are now taking their place in the public life of China. China is a nation awaking from sleep. It is throwing aside old customs and practices. It wants the western system of education, medicine, etc. It wants and needs Christian ideals. China to-day extends its hand to medical men, educators, and ministers who have the desire to serve their fellow men. And we must supply this need. Already there is a group at work, but the task is too great for them and both men and money are required. No sane citizen of this Dominion can refuse to give support to such an enterprise, not now that we are thinking in world terms.

It is part of the work of the Forward Movement to retain our representatives in China. Men like Mr. Mitchell make a great impression on the Chinese. It is the best guarantee of peace that a nation can have, when it keeps high-minded men working abroad.

The war and the "Flu" demonstrated the fact that one part of the world may seriously affect another part. Lately, that is, since 1914, people have been thinking more or less in "world" terms. We find that this planet is not so large after all. With communication as it is, it does not take long to send a message across land or sea. We are in closer touch with distant lands than ever before. Also foreign lands are nearer us than at any previous time. An epidemic in China is apt to spell sickness in America. To-day we want to know how other lands are faring because their welfare affects ours. For this reason governments are taking greater interest in missions. The Missionary to-day is an empire-builder. He counts far more than the man of commercial enterprise. The people of distant lands are realizing that the missionary comes with a message of good will and is anxious to serve.

NATIONAL PEACE THANK OFFERING

The National Peace Thank Offering for Victory and Peace will be taken up in Vulcan district the week of November 21st. The district is asked for $1,500.00 as its share. Payments can be made extending over twelve months, if necessary. For instance $50 much is given now, another payment to be made in six months, and a final payment after the next harvest.

Gratitude, national and personal, moves us to this dedication. We must give a practical expression to our patriotism. We must not lose what we fought for in the great war.

So the appeal goes forth for an overflowing thankoffering, not for selfish or material ends, but for the definite religious purpose of building up a better Canada and a world of goodwill.

Remember this is more than a denominational effort; it is a national effort as well. One that will contribute to the righteousness that alone exalts a nation, one that will aid in making Canada a fully Christ-controlled land.

No sacrifice was considered too great to save the country for ourselves and those who follow in a material and political way. Surely none should be considered too great to enrich the spiritual life of a country, because after all Canada cannot be great unless its citizens are great in the truest sense of the word, and there is not anything that can be called into this work equal to the unifying and elevating forces of the Church itself.

Next week you will be called upon by various citizens. Remember these citizens are not working for selfish ends. They like you want to make this a better country. The canvas is to include every Protestant in the Town and District of Vulcan. It is not for the church here. We as a community join the nation in this great undertaking. Vulcan will do its share.

Rev. A. E. Hayes will give further explanation of the National Peace Thank Offering next Sunday evening in the Union Church here.

EASTWAY NEWS

On the evening of the 8th inst. a jolly crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dean, which was quite unexpected by them. Progressive Whist was carried off with great interest and at half-past twelve supper was served and prizes were awarded. The ladies' first prize was won by Miss Hamilton, the Gents' first prize was won by Mr. Dexter and the Consolation prizes by Mr. and Mrs. H. Amy. Mr. H. Spanke gave a farewell speech to Mr. and Mrs. Dean followed by the presentation of a set of carvers and the latter responded in a most amiable manner. Mr. and Mrs. Dean and daughter will be leaving us in the near future to the regret of the people of this community.

An auction sale will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean on Friday, November 18th.

Grace Marshall arrived home last Saturday and expects to return to High River in the course of a few days.

Threshing is still being carried on in this little burg by Mr. Malcolm and J. B. Marshall. Several storms have detained them lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lent are looking forward to going housekeeping this winter, they intend to take possession of Mr. Dean's place.

PREMIER MEIGHEN ON THE TARIFF

When Premier Meighen completed his tour of Alberta last week during which time he spoke to immense audiences at Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, it is safe to say he made a very favorable impression among those who heard him in the clear cut, wholesome way in which he presented the case in behalf of the government of which he is premier. It would be impossible for us to present his address in full, but we reproduce in this column a few of the pertinent points made in his address at the Calgary meeting:

"Canada was never further away from the policy of free trade than it is today." There was never less inclination to tie ourselves up with tariff obligations with the United States. We are making our own tariff and we will continue to do so. Our tariff is the lowest of any country of any size which claims a protective policy. I am not an extreme protectionist but I am a moderate protectionist, and such a policy would never be abandoned by any man who has thrust upon him the responsibility of government.

"I am not and never was a high protectionist. I never said a word in parliament or out of it in favor of high protection. All that I want is enough protection to keep our industries."

"Our tariff today is the same in kind as that laid down by the Liberals when they were in power. The only difference is that it is lower."

"We could reduce the tariff, but we are not going to do so, if it means a loss to the people of Canada and will have the effect of sending them away."

"The protective principle must be in the Canadian tariff as long as you and I live."

"You can't get any tariff that will completely satisfy every province. The best that can be done is to get a tariff that represents the average need of the whole people, east, west, north and south."

"We can only be sure of our own market. It would be manifest madness for us to have free trade if the United States continues protectionist."

"Experience, instead of theory, is in favor of a moderate and reasonable course in respect to the Canadian tariff. A tariff on the protective plan is necessary."

"The Liberal government did the right thing, I am free to say, when it put on a protective tariff. What I find it at fault in now is its making allegations against the present government for carrying on the same policy, and this just to please the low tariff west."

"The Liberal program consists half in saying they want free trade and the other half in saying they don't want it."

"If anyone wants to abandon the protection principle and go on the free trade principle he will get an awful shock."

"We intend to apply the protection principle only to the extent that is necessary to make it profitable for the industries of this country to stay here."

Let the Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Farmers' Party now come to Alberta and give us a talk on the tariff. We have heard the other two and we are anxious to hear them all.

At a recent meeting of Alberta Union of Municipalities a resolution was passed asking the government to increase the hospital grant of 50 cents a day to $1.00 per day.

INSTITUTE MEETING

The Institute meeting in connection with the Vulcan Agricultural Society held in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Saturday afternoon last was fairly well attended by the farmers of the district when a very profitable address was given by Professor James Murray, of the Nobleford Foundation, on "Soil Drifting." The address was listened to with keen interest by all present and a large number of questions were asked and answered by Mr. Murray, both in regard to his subject and others of vital importance to the farmer. The address was in part as follows:

"Probably no part of the country has suffered more from soil drifting this year than has the districts around

Macleod and N.E. and East of Taber, and as nobody knows how to control or prevent it it is up to the farmers to get together and try and find a solution of the problem. Several methods have already been tried with some success but these are only in the experimental stages. When the land is new there is no danger of soil drifting because of the presence of grass roots but the oftener it is plowed and cropped the more tendency it has to blow. Summerfallowing is a preventative of soil drifting and the speaker pointed out that instead of this being put off until July as is the general custom it should be done as early as possible after seeding and cited April as a good time to start. The reason for this was to store up moisture, the weeds being a secondary consideration. It has been noted that in dry years fields that have been plowed late and in a dry condition have blown while fields plowed early and in good condition have not blown at all. Discing is better done in the spring and if done immediately after seeding will be found profitable and help to eradicate the Russian Thistle and Tumbling Mustard, which gets an early start but does not grow very fast until the hot weather comes and by plowing early to a depth of six or seven inches weeds are destroyed when only three or four inches high and the subsoil that is turned up will stay on top in little chunks and prevent blowing to a great extent. After plowing pack immediately and the field will need no more attention for two or three weeks, dependent on the weather when cultivator should be put on. The cultivator used at the Nobleford Foundation works underground on a revolving principle so that weeds won't clog and also so that it does not disturb the surface. The planting of Fall Rye is also advocated as a preventative against soil blowing, besides having the advantage of being a safe crop. Although not rated high good results have been obtained by feeding rye straw and a few oats during the winter months but it is not advisable to let stock feed at stacks. It also makes good fall and spring pasture and stock do well on it.

A very interesting meeting was held also in the hall on the same date when Miss Allely, of the Claresholm School of Agriculture, gave an address on "Points to be considered in Judging Domestic Exhibits at Agricultural Fairs." The first part of the very instructive lecture was home making as a science and the speaker pointed out that good home making was a profession, an art, and the universal aim was to make a success of the home. As in business, best efforts must be given it to make it as perfect as possible. The work in the home was not drudgery if the home maker was prepared for the work. Even great artists had the meager part to do such as washing their brushes, etc., and the natural desire for occupation should make this work a pleasure. Even magazines often devoted a lot of space to things concerning the home which proves the subject to be world wide. Miss Allely then spoke of the splendid work done in the schools and also at home by the children and exhibited at the Fair. She also spoke of the lovely work shown last September in connection with the Vulcan Agricultural Society, stating that the cooking, sewing, etc., was the very best she had had the pleasure of seeing and which gave her a splendid idea of the excellent home makers of Vulcan. In reference to the uses of the Fair the speaker stated that three points stood out prominently, namely, that new lines of work was advanced, that by studying the work of others our own was improved, and that a community spirit was created. Then the subject of judging exhibits was introduced and Miss Allely spoke largely in favor of a variety in the prize list and remarked that people so often misunderstood the meaning of the same and excellent work had to be disqualified on account of the judges not being able to place them at all. A good plan would be for exhibitors to discuss the whys and wherefores of the different awards with the judges afterwards, for instance in bread, the points to be considered were many and consisted of appearance, shape, color of the crust which should be a golden brown, color of the crumb which should be creamy in preference to pure white, the texture which should be fine and not too holey, and lastly the taste which should be sweet and moist and not at all heavy. In regard to judging loaf cakes, the matter would be simplified if all were of uniform size, and practically the same points as in bread and pies were considered for prize winning. In concluding the address, Miss Allely urged those present to encourage the work of the society and also to render as much help as possible in making the school fair as great a success as possible. The meeting was then closed, everyone present expressing their thanks to Miss Allely for the splendid and instructive address and hoped to have the pleasure of hearing her again in the near future.

SYNOD OF ALBERTA RE-PROHIBITION

Whereas the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada has repeatedly and unanimously pronounced in favor of the total prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes, and has laid it upon its people to do all in their power to end the drink traffic;

And whereas the recent prohibition campaign in Alberta to forbid the importation into the province of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes was in conformity with the Assembly's declarations and was actively participated in by the Presbyterian body in Alberta;

And whereas respite many heavy handicaps a majority approximating 20,000 has been polled in favor of the said prohibition;

And whereas already in certain quarters and by certain persons a subtle and persistent effort is being made to disparage the vote cast and to thwart the will of the people as democratically expressed at the polls;

Therefore be it resolved:

1. That the Synod declare emphatically that in its judgment the vote polled and the majority given is a clear indication that the will of the people is for the prohibition and not for the Government Control of the Liquor Traffic;

2. That it call upon the government in the light of this mandate to make such amendments to the present liquor act as will through efficient administration lead to the removal of abuses of such for example as are apparent in connection with the issuing of prescriptions.

3. That it warn its people to be vigilant and take such measures as will bring defeat to the plans of any persons or parties who may seek to undermine the Prohibition sentiment in the province or subvert the present prohibition legislation.

4. That it pledge itself to co-operate with all other organizations that united with it in achieving the victory of October 26th in resisting any invasion of the registered will of the people.

5. That this resolution be read to all congregations of the Synod, and that copies of it be sent to the Premier, the Attorney General, to all the organizations referred to in the preceding paragraph and to all newspapers in the province.

COAL OIL AND GASOLINE

Coal oil burns quickly and gives about six times as much heat as wood. There is a great temptation to use it on cold winter mornings, or when you need a fire in a hurry. Why not? Here is a reason.

Coal oil evaporates easily. This vapor mixes with air in the right proportion is more powerful than dynamite. A spark will set it right off. You may light your fire with coal oil a dozen times and get away with it. But some time it will be right and then there will be a tragedy.

There is a fire somewhere in this province practically every day from this cause. Don't start your fire with coal oil.

Lamps explode because the burners are dirty or do not fit properly. The vapor collects inside the lamp, takes fire and explodes. See that the burners are kept clean. If dirty, boil them in a solution of baking soda and water. If a lamp flickers or gives off puffs of smoke, put it out and do not light it again until you have attended to the burner. Needless to say a lamp should be kept away from the edge of a table or any place where a child might reach it.

Gasoline is even more dangerous than coal oil, but people are more afraid of it. However, they have not fear enough.

It evaporates more quickly than coal oil, and being heavier than air the vapor lies about the floor for a long time. Gasoline vapor has been known to travel fifty feet from where gasoline was spilled, and explode from the fire in a stove.

Here are some ways in which gasoline starts fires:

Cleaning gloves or clothes near a lighted stove or lamp.

Smoking in a garage.

Looking in a gasoline tank while smoking.

Looking at the engine of an automobile with a lighter match.

Mistaking gasoline for coal oil and lighting the fire with it.

Leaving gasoline about in an open can—the vapor escapes and spreads around the floor ready for the first spark to set it off.

Gasoline should be kept in a tightly corked or sealed metal can which should be painted red to avoid mistakes. Glass bottles or earthen jars are liable to break.

Chemists say the explosive force of gasoline vapor mixed with air is eighty-six times as powerful as gunpowder.

Handle gasoline as carefully as you would dynamite.

GREAT INTEREST BEING TAKEN IN PRINCE'S FORTHCOMING MARRIAGE

Now that the Prince of Wales is back in England, it is confidently expected that his engagement and marriage will follow shortly. A great public, which extends far beyond the British dominions, is much interested. The extent of which our neighbor is interested is shown by a play, "Just Suppose," which was recently produced in Washington, and will soon appear in New York. It is only "a" prince not "the" prince who is here, but it is of the latter that the audience is undoubtedly supposed to think.

The idea, according to an account of the play, is that the Prince finds himself in the course of his itinerary in Washington. He soon tires of its hide-bound conventions and slips away, with a faithful aide-de-camp, to Virginia, where, in an old planter's home, he finds rest and repose in surroundings reminiscent of his own country. Of course, there is a pretty daughter, and between the young people it is a case of love at first sight. In spite of all precautions, the Prince's incognito cannot be preserved. Rumors reach Washington, and the British Ambassador, fearful of the dignity of the Empire, runs down to Virginia to interview the freedom-loving Prince. The Prince cannot tear himself away from his lovely Virginian sweetheart or the good people among whom are those who had entertained his equally popular grandfather many years before, but a pre-emptory telegram from his father, the King, brings him back immediately to a realization of the station in life which he has been born to fill. In a Virginian orchard, flooded with moonlight, the lovers bid each other a poignant farewell, and the curtain goes down on the Prince stepping on board a giant battleship, which is to bear him to his home thousands of miles overseas.

This is all very entertaining. The only trouble with the story is that the prince, having visited Canada before going to the States, and having seen so many beautiful Canadian girls, it is quite inconceivable that any young Virginian could make so deep an impression on him.

BROOD SOWS

The following letter was received by the Editor of this paper from S. G. Carlyle, Live Stock Commissioner for the province of Alberta:

"During the past few weeks, the Department of Agriculture has received a number of requests for information as to where brood sows may be secured.

It is evident that there will be a demand throughout the fall. Many farmers during the past two years have sold entirely out of their breeding stock of sows and now that grain has reduced somewhat in price, some of these men are anxious to again become established in the business but find no local supply from which to secure a start. The matter was discussed by the Live Stock Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, the Markets Representative of the Dominion Government and with the commission firms at the Edmonton and Calgary Stock Yards. It was learned that a considerable number of good brood sows are now passing through the stock yards and are being bought by the packers for slaughter.

That famous English actor, Mr. Martin Harvey, will tour the Dominion of Canada in January next under the auspices of the Trans-Canada Theatricals Ltd. He will be in Calgary and while people generally will await with keen anticipation the arrival of Mr. Harvey in his new repertoire. The management of the Grand Theatre, Calgary, will make known to the people of this district the date of appearance at Calgary.

Farmers in the Lethbridge northern irrigation district by the overwhelming vote of 253 to 15 vote in favor of bonding their land for $50 an acre, a total of $5,400,000, for the purpose of the irrigation project to water annually 108,000 acres. This is said to be the first time in the history of Canada where farmers have pledged their land for the purpose of constructing an irrigation system.

"Lighting" Joe Martin is once more a candidate for the constituency of Vancouver, in the coming provincial elections.
